Two projects managed by edna are:

OzProjects

and Global Education

Find. Join. Connect.

I propose to break this session into 2 parts:

Part 1

Global Education

Part 2

OzProjects

Find. Join. Connect.

What is Global Education?

- Understanding of interaction of human society and environment
- Shaping preferred futures
- Exploration of change, interdependence, identity and diversity, rights and responsibilities, peace building, poverty and wealth, sustainability and global justice
- Developing skills of cooperation, shared responsibility, critical thinking, communication
- Positive and responsible values and attitudes and orientation to active participation.

The Global Education Website

<http://globaleducation.edna.edu.au>

- Initiated and funded by AusAID to support its Global Education Program.
- To increase the amount and quality of global education.
- To raise awareness and understanding among Australian students of international issues;
- To prepare them to live in a global world and to be active global citizens shaping better futures.

GLOBAL EDUCATION

Global Education / Global Issues / Desertification

Deserts and desertification

- Facts
- Background
- Australia's response
- The global agenda

Facts

- The 'World Day to Combat Desertification and Drought' is 17 June.
- Nearly one-third of the earth is classed as arid or semi-arid desert.
- An estimated six million hectares of productive land are lost every year because of desertification, land degradation and declining agricultural productivity.
- More than 110 countries are affected by desertification.
- Over 250 million people are directly affected by desertification and one billion people are at risk. These people include many of the world's poorest, most marginalised, and politically weak citizens.
- The African continent is most affected by desertification. Two-thirds of the continent is desert or drylands, almost three-quarters of which are degraded to some degree.
- Roughly 27 per cent of the China's land mass is desertified, with an average of 2,460 square kilometres of land being lost to

The official logo for IYDD 2006 explained:
 The tree covers the logo as a protective roof, symbolizing the combat against deforestation.
 The sun, symbol life is a strong feature in deserts landscape.
 The dunes are formed of several colours, the brown to represent the intensified soil conservation, the yellow and the orange to represent the sand dunes and all the living creatures of the desert; and finally the green, to show vegetation and agriculture.

Support & Networks – Publications & Posters

The screenshot shows the Global Education website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the 'GLOBAL EDUCATION' logo and a search box. Below the logo, there are menu items: 'Global Issues', 'Country Profiles', 'Teaching Tools', and 'Support Networks'. A secondary navigation bar contains links for 'Home', 'About', 'Contact', 'Feedback', and 'Sitemap'. The main content area is titled 'Global Education / Support and Networks / Publications / Posters'. A left sidebar lists various site features: 'Events Calendar', 'Global EdNet', 'News feeds', 'Newsletter', 'NGOs', 'PD Providers', 'Publications', and 'Posters'. The 'Posters' section is highlighted. Below the sidebar, there is a 'Print View' option. The main content area features a section titled 'Landmines' with a paragraph of text and two images. The first image shows a man working in a field, and the second image shows a group of people playing volleyball.

Posters

Landmines

AusAID have produced a series of three posters to show how their programs are addressing the effects of landmines. The posters illustrate how landmine survivors in Cambodia are rebuilding their lives. A little girl learns to use her new prosthetic leg, young men play volley ball and a man is able to tend his garden and travel to market to sell his vegetables.

The screenshot shows the edna.edu.au website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a search box and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there are tabs for 'Global Education' and 'edna'. The main content area is titled 'Curriculum Links' and contains the following text:

★ Feature Projects

The Million Puppet Project

<http://url.edna.edu.au/QR9x>

Imagine a million puppets all exhibited in one big space... sock, hand, rod, finger, junk, glove, shadow, marionettes and moveable creations never seen before! The Million Puppet Project invites people from around the world to make and send a puppet to Perth, Western Australia, for a new Guinness World Record - The World's Largest Puppet Display! The Million Puppet Project is an initiative of Spare Parts Puppet Theatre and is officially part of UNIMA 2008.

A special project has been created specifically for you under: Geography Teachers Space.

To access this module, you need to be logged in . Click on the Login link at the extreme right.

If you can access your school email, then do so, to activate your log in, else I can confirm your login.

Let me know.

A very special Invitation

Think about an activity you would want to use with your students within the Antarctica and/or the Planet Earth Projects.

Prepare a rough idea and let's develop this into an activity to be included in either of the projects.

If you feel confident working with Moodle we can give you teacher rights to create it online.
